

Second Hint for Problem 156-d

The first hint lets you write an equation for $(-1)^k x^k$ as a rising factorial of something else and then use what you know about expressing rising factorials in terms of falling factorials, after which you have to convert back to factorial powers of x .