

Second Hint for Problem 133

How many different bookcase arrangements correspond to the same way of stacking k books into n boxes so that each box has at least one book?). The hints may suggest that you can do this problem in more than one way!