Dear Laurie:

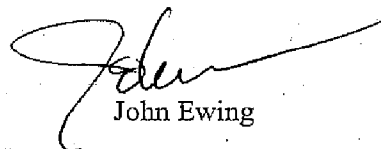

I am writing to stipulate that the American Mathematical Society grants permission to J. Laurie Snell and Charles M. Grinstead to distribute their work Introduction to Probability under the terms of the GNU General Public License, as published by the Free Software Foundation.

This is to be done under the following three conditions:

- (1) That the distribution should commence only after January 1, 2003.
- (2) That in the material distributed in this way, you include a prominent link indicating that the original version of the book can be purchased on the AMS bookstore at <http://www.ams.org/bookstore-getitem/item=IPROB>. (It is understood that others may remove that link if they modify the book.)
- (3) That you also include in this material a note, stating that people who want to use the (original) book for classroom use can send e-mail to bookstore@ams.org.

Further, we would appreciate any information you can provide concerning the use and distribution of your work after you offer the book for such distribution. In that way, we can all view this as an experiment that provides helpful information for the future.

Sincerely yours,

John Ewing
